Increase in City Property Made By Board of Equalization.

The City Board of Equalization has been in session for the past three days. Considerable increase has been made in the valuation of the city's property. An increase of $30,000 has been made over last year's valuation.

The Board has gone after the large property owners and are raising the lists to what they claim is in proportion to the real value of the property within the city limits.

Those comprising the city board of equalization are W. G. Smart, H. A. Solbrig and Dr. A. A. Simons. Cloverport property is steadily enhancing in value and the fact is very evident. The Board is taking advantage of the opportunity presented it, and is going after the property holders.

The Board has set next Monday as the day on which to hear complaints from those who think their property has been assessed too high.

ONE DOLLAR FOR A MAN

Sold at Auction in Elizabethtown For Nine Months For Vagrancy.

Elizabethtown News.
Jack Aubrey, convicted of vagrancy, was sold yesterday afternoon at the west door of the courthouse by Sheriff George Yates to a satisfied a judgment and order of the Hardin Circuit Court. Aubrey was tried in the November term of court and was ordered sold by Judge Wood S. Chelf after his conviction by a jury. The Sheriff's sale announcement which was posted on the advertising board at the east end of the courthouse created considerable excitement and comment throughout the county on account of the rarity and infrequency of such sales. The unusual procedure attracted a large crowd which was quieted into silence by the appearance of the Sheriff and the prisoner upon the block. The Sheriff announced the sale and stated that the sale would be for cash in hand. Sheriff Yates then asked, "How much am I offered for the services of this man for nine months?" A bystander bid 50 cents. The crowd jeered. The Sheriff then asked the crowd for other bidders, but he received no response. Aubrey was then knocked off to Mr. Johnson for the small sum of $1.

Aubrey was born and raised on Meeting Creek, where "Mountain Flow" is manufactured in its virgin purity by the "elusive" (mountain) man. It is a typical specimen of the backwoodsman, a perfect stranger to a first-class bill of fare and is decidedly partial to home-made apparel. It is alleged that Aubrey has always been averse to labor of any kind and considered it the province of the "elusive" (mountain) man. The question is now whether or not Aubrey's purchaser has a bonanza or an elephant on his hands.

Aubrey has no trade and very little information of any manual labor whatever. Outside of this, Aubrey says, "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." These time-worn words are perhaps significant and will probably cause his purchaser trouble.

Mr. Johnson is a burly, heavy weight blacksmith and farmer and it is highly probable that he will succeed in teaching Aubrey agriculture and the art of blacksmithing.

The sale of a man for vagrancy in this county is seldom made. The only instance of a similar sale that can be called to mind was the sale of Lawrence Peak in 1896 by Deputy Sheriff M. H. Williams. Peak was absconded at a low price, he being bought by Bill Bell a saloonkeeper, for $15.75.

HOW TO SHOW A PROFIT.

Fricky Bookkeeping Puts Losses on the Profit Side.

The printed report of a municipal electric light plant in Indiana has just been received. It shows a profit. There is no question about it. It shows a large profit. The figures are there in black and white, and they show a profit equivalent to 30 per cent of the gross income and 18 per cent on the capital invested. This is what we call a profitable business.

How was this plant able to make so good a showing? In a way so simple that any municipal plant could adopt it with success if its superintendent were good at figures. And the best of it is that it makes competition by private plants impossible because—well, stockholders are too inquisitive.

In the first place the fixed charges for interest on the capital invested and for depreciation were entirely ignored. Then no allowance was made for taxes lost by having municipal instead of private ownership. Next, while full charge was made against the water department and the city offices for lights and supplies, the superintendent conveniently forgot to charge the lighting plant with the water used in its boilers and condensers or with his share of the salaries in the city accounting department. Insurance was also overlooked. Finally, to make assurance of profit doubly sure, a number of items properly pertaining to maintenance were charged to "new construction."

At the same time the charge for street and public building lights was quite as high as in surrounding cities served by private companies, which had some, but not all to provide for all these omitted items.

It is perhaps needless to add that except for the judicious way in which the superintendent prepared his report it is considerable doubt would have appeared instead of the gratifying profits. Of course the taxpayers will have to provide the money to make good these paper profits, but they may not for some years see the connection between their profitable plant and the higher tax rate, and meanwhile are happy in the contemplation of its profits and will doubtless testify enthusiastically to the benefits of municipal ownership.

From the above we may deduce the following rule for showing a profit: First, omit all items of expense that can without too much danger of detection be saddled upon the general list or other departments; second, charge in as vague a way as possible to new construction as many items of maintenance as may be necessary to show a large profit. (N. B.—The profit must be large to provide for the contingency of some carping critic discovering one or more of the concealed items of expense and ruthlessly drawing them forth from their hiding places.)

If the above rule is scrupulously followed there seems to be no reason why every municipal plant should not show a profit. "Concerning Municipal Ownership."

GONE OUT OF BUSINESS.

Millions Sunk in Unsuccessful Municipal Lighting Plants.

During the past few years at least sixty cities and towns in the United States have sold, leased or abandoned their lighting plants. In a few cases they will retain their distributing system, burying the current from some company, but in most instances they have gone out of the business entirely. A number of other places have made unsuccessful efforts to dispose of their plants.

As with few exceptions municipal lighting plants have been in operation but a short time, this is a remarkable showing of failure and one, it is hardly to be said, that is indignantly avoided by those who for ends of their own are urging other cities to make similar experiments.

As it usually takes some years for a city to realize how great a burden it is carrying in its lighting plant, it is probable that the number of admitted failures will increase rapidly from now on, for, as an eminent electrical engineer recently said, "There are already indications that a considerable number of the municipalities which have engaged in improper undertakings are entering upon a period of financial difficulty."

Faults Enough as It Is.

The political machine that dominates New York city is strong because large powers are delegated to it, and the expenditure of $100,000,000 is given absolutely into its keeping. We have faults enough without municipal ownership in most of the cities of this country, and the ordinary business man fails to see the wisdom of making the situation more complex and dubious than it is by adding the problem of municipal ownership with all that it implies. —Binghamton Herald.

"Municipal ownership," remarks the Winnipeg Free Press, "should not be discredited because of its tendency to increase municipal debt, provided the new enterprises are made to be fully self-sustaining." Neither is it dangerous if carefully handled. It is just about as safe to trust the management of a municipalized service to the average municipal council as it would be to engage a seven-year-old boy to handle dynamite. —Montreal Gazette.

Who Would Fine the City?

An exchange notes the fact that a city council recently fined a water company $1,000 for supplying "low and wholesome water." That is right. But if the waterworks had been owned by the city—

WEDDING BELLS IN MEADE COUNTY

Many Young Couples to Plight

Love's Vows at Hymen's Altar.

ASHCRAFT—LEWIS NUPHTALS.

A beautiful wedding took place in Brandenburg Thursday, December the sixth, when Miss Mary Coby Lewis was married to Mr. W. D. Ashcraft in the Baptist church. The marriage ceremony was said by the Rev. A. D. Leitchfield, of Madisonville. Mrs. Warren May, of Anacosta, Mont., a sister of the bride, was the honor and Miss Mary Lin Ditto was bridesmaid. Messrs. Tom Lyddan, of Webster, and Ben Clarkson, of Big Spring, were ushers. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Lewis. She is a lovely young woman and has a wide circle of friends. She is well known in Cloverport having visited relatives here.

Mr. Ashcraft is Meade county's County Court Clerk. Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft have gone west for a two month's tour in California.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Mary E. Price to Claude F. Hardin. The wedding will take place Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, in Brandenburg.

Miss Price is the daughter of Mr. J. W. Price and is a charming young girl. Mr. Hardin is from Kansas City, Mo.

The following announcements of Meade county marriages to take place were published in the Times last week:

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Board, of Elkton, announce that the marriage of their daughter, Nellie B. to Adair Lee Kendall, will take place December 20, at 3 p. m. at Hill Grove church.

Cards are out announcing that the marriage of Miss Mable Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shacklette, to Dan Willett, of Louisville, will take place December 19, at their residence near Brandenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCoy announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Fanny Lee, to Samuel H. Kennedy, December 5 at the home of the bride.

The Christmas Dinner.

In spite of the fact that the word dyspepsia means literally bad cook, it will be fair for many to lay the blame on the cook if they begin the Christmas Dinner with little appetite and end it with distress or nausea. It may not be fair for any one to do that—it let us hope so for the sake of the cook! The disease dyspepsia indicates a bad stomach, that is a weak stomach, rather than a bad cook, and for a weak stomach there is nothing else equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. It gives the stomach vigor and tone, cures dyspepsia, creates appetite, and makes eating the pleasure it should be.

The Original Procrastinator.

It's Alcock's, first introduced to the people six years ago, and to-day undoubtedly has the largest sale of any external remedy—millions being sold annually throughout the whole civilized world. There have been imitations, to be sure, but never has there been one to even compare with Alcock's—the world's standard external remedy.

For a week or two colds and coughs or any local pain, the result of taking cold or overstrain, there's nothing we know of to compare with the famous plaster.

THE COUNTY UNIT LAW.

The Court of Appeals Will Settle the Constitutionality of the Law in January.

Judge Hobson, Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, has set a case from Lincoln county for an oral argument early in the January term. The case will be of considerable interest in Hardin county as it involves the points raised here on the County Unit Law. In the Lincoln county case in question the town of Stanford is a Fifth Class city. It voted as a corporation and went "wet."

A month after an election was held the entire county of Lincoln including the town of Stanford and went "dry." The saloonkeepers of Stanford applied to the city council for a renewal of license and the council refused. The case was then taken to the Circuit Court and it sustained the action of the council. From this decision the saloon keepers have appealed to the Court of Appeals and in January the question will be determined. —Elizabethtown News.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure this picture is the form of a label for each wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

WHICH SHE AS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies, calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature bountifully provides in the harvest fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found the property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to rescue the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their women friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a glass of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkhams sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, in a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to finance newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed her reward years ago, but her words and example are still inspiring for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—of these were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to the present generation, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the human oblique regions of the country. The result of the vote was a surprise to the friends of the measure, who openly charged its defeat to the American Federation of Labor. Many votes on the Republican side, however, were secured as a protest against the invasion of the rights of the states.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-earned knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has conducted it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her burden of care, and her daughter-in-law took it up. With women assistants, some as assistants and some as co-workers, Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs, the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

fact that there was not a single convict in the institution who could handle the type. The last printer in the "pen" had served his time, and secured employment in Cincinnati, where they made him superintendent, and there was none to take his job in Columbus. Nor has there been any other printer in the state who could handle the type. There is plenty of other talent to be had. For instance, there are enough bankers there (more than twenty and several on the way) to start a clearing-house, and enough lawyers to take care of all the business the friendless prisoners can bring them, to say nothing of doctors, brokers and other "eminently respectable" citizens gone wrong. No Printers in Penitentiary.

Until a short time ago an ably conducted and quite well edited little paper was published within the walls of the Ohio penitentiary. It had an assured circulation, and to all appearances was destined to live long and prosper. But it disappeared without warning, and inquiry as to the cause developed the

ON REAL ESTATE

Bill Passed by House Permits National Banks to Make Loans.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The House, waiting on the report of appropriation bills, began its legislative grind by passing three measures: incorporating the national German-American alliance; authorizing the secretary of the treasury to duplicate gold certificates in lieu of ones lost or destroyed; and the bill amending the national bank laws, permitting national banking associations to make loans on real estate as security and limiting the amount of such loans. The banking bill has been one of the west's favorite measures, and the leaders in the house from that section lived up generally in favor of the legislation, which, it is asserted, would go far toward popularizing the national banks. The opponents of the bill, Democrats and Republicans, insisted that real estate was not a proper security for a loan.

LABORERS

Killed in a Tunnel by Explosion of Giant Powder.

New York, Dec. 4.—A spark from a candle carried by a laborer dropped into a can of giant powder and caused an explosion among a gang of workmen in the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under the East river. Three men were killed outright and a fourth is dying. Of 12 others less seriously hurt, two required hospital treatment. The others suffered chiefly from burns and were attended on the spot and sent home. The explosion occurred in the tube close to a shaft sunk between the Long Island railroad station at Long Island City and the river. The dead: Sidney Schmidt, Brooklyn; Frank Stodvin, colored, Manhattan; John Voroges, Brooklyn.

PILOTAGE BILL LOST.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The house by a vote of 110 to 164 defeated the bill of Representative Littlefield of Maine removing discriminations against American sailing vessels in the coasting trade. This bill, commonly known as the anti-compulsory pilotage bill, has been the subject of many hearings in the committee on merchant marine and fisheries, and has excited great interest throughout the lake and ocean shipping regions of the country. The result of the vote was a surprise to the friends of the measure, who openly charged its defeat to the American Federation of Labor. Many votes on the Republican side, however, were secured as a protest against the invasion of the rights of the states.

OUTWITS THE SURGEON.

A complication of female troubles, with catarrh of the stomach and bowels, had reduced Mrs. H. S. Austin, of Leavenworth, Ind., to such a deplorable condition, that her doctor advised an operation; but her husband, fearing fatal results, postponed this to try Eucalyptus; and to the amazement of all who knew her, this medicine completely cured her. Her marred countenance, her kidney disease, lumbago, jaundice, chills and fever, general debility, nervousness and blood poisoning. Best tonic made. Price 50c at Severs Drug Co. Tr. It.

VAGRANT SOLD INTO SERVITUDE.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Dec. 4.—Dock Aubrey, who was convicted of vagrancy and who was ordered sold into servitude for nine months, according to the law of the state, was disposed of at public auction to J. Johnson, a farmer, for the sum of $10. Dock's reputation for general thieftiness was such that even the most strenuous efforts of the sheriff were not sufficient to bring out many bids, the report having gone forth that his ability to consume food was out of all proportion to his capacity for work.

Taft on Brownsville Affair.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Secretary Taft in his annual report gives an allusion to the Brownsville (Tex.) affair of Aug. 13 and the discharge of the colored battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry. He defends the course of the war department in the matter and is severe in his condemnation of the noncommissioned officers of the battalion for failing to discover and report the perpetrators of the outrage, and of the enlisted men of the battalion who, by maintaining silence when, as he says, they must have known the guilty parties, connived at the crime. He insists that no obligation of comradship should prevent the men from telling the truth, but indicates that such of the men as are guiltless may be re-enlisted.

ROUSES CALIFORNIANS

Roosevelt's Treatment of the Mooted Japanese Question.

THEIR SOLONS DISCUSS IT

Rayner of Maryland Calls Up the Matter in the Senate—Feeling Running High on the Pacific Coast. Hostile Demonstration in the City of Tokyo.

San Francisco, Dec. 7.—The San Francisco school situation is the subject of its decision to confine the Japanese school children to the oriental school. The sentiments of President Roosevelt, as expressed in his message to congress, will not affect their position, according to President Altmann of the board, who announced that the board will do all in its power to correct the impression given out by the president's message, which says that the Japanese are excluded from San Francisco public schools.

Washington, Dec. 5.—President Roosevelt's discussion of the San Francisco school situation in the message was received with great satisfaction by the California delegation in the house. The members of the delegation from that state are unanimously in the declaration that no treaty rights have been violated in excluding Japanese from public schools attended by whites. The suggestion in President Roosevelt's message that naturalization be extended to Japanese is extremely distasteful to the California delegation in the house. West and South find themselves in sympathy on two propositions. One is the race issue; the other is the suggestion of federal intervention to enforce the terms of the treaty with Japan. It was the suggestion of using all the forces, civil and military, of the United States that touched the spot with the Californians. They had no answer, at any rate a stage of the discussion, to have the administration suggest using military power against them.

In the senate Mr. Rayner of Maryland introduced the following resolution on the Japanese question: "Resolved, that in the opinion of the senate, this government has no right to force into the hands of the Japanese foreign government relative to the public school system of any of the states in the Union; resolved further, that it is the opinion of the senate that there is no provision in the treaty between the United States and the government of Japan that relates in any manner to this subject or in any way interferes with the right of the state of California to conduct and administer its system of public schools in accordance with its own legislation, and resolved further, that it is the duty of the president of the United States to notify the government of Japan and to notify any foreign government with which the question may arise that the public educational institutions of the state are not within the jurisdiction of the United States, and that the United States has no power to regulate or supervise their administration."

Recent Administration's Stand.

San Francisco, Dec. 5.—The feeling in San Francisco is high. The city and parts of the state are openly, bitterly and resentfully opposed to the administration's stand in regard to the school question in San Francisco. The people believe the Japs are seeking to find a cause for a quarrel with the United States and have chosen the San Francisco school situation as the bone over which to pick a quarrel and start a war. "If California is to remain one of the United States," declared the commissioner of labor for California, "then it must stop invasion and settle the question. The Japanese are swarming into California at the rate of over 1,000 a month, more arrogant, more cheery than any other people." "The school board of San Francisco never will change its attitude on the subject," declared the superintendent of schools.

Demonstration in Japan.

Tokyo, Dec. 5.—The growth here of the anti-American feeling is beginning to cause great annoyance to the government, which is earnestly trying to smooth matters over. The most significant incident which has thus far taken place is the burning of the splendid Grant memorial, erected on the site of the old Grant headquarters (Yllyses S. Grant, and intended as a permanent reminder of the old and steadfast friendship between the two countries. Today it is a heap of smoking ruins, and no effort is being made to conceal the fact that it was deliberately destroyed as an object lesson.

Call For All Records.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The senate adopted the Penrose resolution requesting the president to send it information regarding the discharge of the negro troops of the Twenty-fifth Infantry and also the Foraker resolution directing the secretary of war to transmit all information in the possession of his department on the same subject. Both resolutions carried an identical amendment by Mr. Culberson asking specifically for the order to Major Penrose, commanding the troops, which directed him not to turn over to the Texas authorities certain of the troops demanded.
